No harm to repeat the advice: "Clean up."

The Halifax cysters will soon come back. The lobsters never go away.

Now and then the sewerage question is still discussed. There is nothing that Daytona is more in need of than a good sewerage system.

Daytona has a board of trade but of late it has shown little activity. An organization of this kind can be of great benefit to a city. All Daytona people should stand loyally by this commercial body and encourage and assist it in upbuilding the interests of the city.

Editor Hudson, of the Orlando Reporter, announces that he will issue a daily edition after the first of October. Orlando is one of the most enterprising inland towns of Florida. The city already has one daily, but Editor Hudson will make two blades of grass grow where one grew before. Success to the Orlando Daily Reporter.

FREIGHT DEPOT FOR DAYTONA.

Material is Now Arriving for a Structure that Will Be Larger Than the Building Now Used.

Material has been arriving all week for a new freight warehouse to be erected in Daytona. The new structure will be erected south of the present warehouse, and will be a strictly modern building. The Gazette-News is unable to learn the exact dimensions, but it will extend from the present building to Volusia avenue on the south. One corner will be occupied as an office for the freight agent. The office will have a cashier's room, and will be supplied with suitable desks and fixtures. Work on the building will probably be commenced in a couple of weeks. The material already on the ground consists of two carloads of lumber, two carloads of brick, two of sand and one of slate.

A MAP OF FLORIDA THROWN IN.

New Subscribers Will Receive the Gazette-News, the Florida Sun and a Map of Florida.

The Gazette-News Company has made arrangements with Rand, McNally & Company, map publishers, of Chicago, for a number of maps of Florida. The map is the latest issued of the Peninsular State and contains so many interesting features that type would be inadequate to enumerate them. A copy of the map may be seen at the office.

The proposition of the Gazette-News is to give every PAID-IN-ADVANCE NEW SUBSCRIBER, who enrolls his name within the next thirty days, a copy of this map, a year's subscription to the Florida Sun, and a year's subscription to the Gazette-News, all for $1.50. Remember the offer is only good for thirty days.

NEW HOME FOR GAZETTE-NEWS

About the First of November the Plant will be Moved to the New Shanks Building.

Arrangements were completed this week for a new home for the Gazette-News and the Daily News. The Gazette-News Company has leased the upper story of the building under erection by J. A. Shanks & Son, on Beach street, and the plant will be moved about the first of November, or possibly a little before. A brick pressroom will be erected in the rear. New machinery and type will be installed, and other substantial improvements made, which will enable the Gazette-News Company to turn out the finest kind of job printing to say nothing of greatly improving both the weekly and tourist daily.

The front suite of offices in the new building have been leased for law offices to T. E. Fitzgerald.

JNO. PELLETT HOLDING HIS OWN

Young Man Who Was Injured at New Smyrna Last Week Has Some Chances of Recovery.

John Pellett the 15-year-old son of M. M. Pellett, of this city, who was injured at New Smyrna Thursday of last week, is still alive and, while not yet out of danger, may recover. He is conscious all the time and is suffering considerable pain.

It seems that the report that Pellett was injured on the dredge Klondyke is erroneous. He was on the launch Cruiser, owned by his uncle, A. M. Pellett, when the accident occurred. The Cruiser was towing the dredge. A strong tide was running when it was about to pass through the New Smyrna drawbridge; the boom became entangled with the steering gear, and Captain Pellett was unable to steer the boat and it crashed into a piling on the bridge. Young John saw that the crash was inevitable, and not realizing the strength of the tide, endeavored to prevent the boat from striking. He was caught between the boat and piling, and was caught by Captain Pellett just as he was about to fall overboard.

ORMOND-DAYTONA AUTO RACES

Many Great Events and Noted Machines Will Be Entered in the Races.

The Vanderbilt annual international road race is about the last important automobile function in a racing way on the 1905 calendar. Thereafter, the attention of the racing world will be directed and focused on the Ormond-Daytona beach, the record-holding course of the world, besides which all of the courses are as pigmies to the giant.

Already it is reported that manufacturers and private individuals are giving orders for racing machines which will be expected to do phenomenal speed work between the dates January 22 to 27, which are the dates granted and sanctioned to the Florida East Coast Automobile Association by the racing board of the American Automobile Association.

The tournament next winter will be managed by a committee of seven, three of them being residents of Ormond and three residents of Daytona, with an independent resident of the Florida East Coast as chairman of the committee. The general management of the tournament has been entrusted to W. J. Morgan, who managed the 1903 and 1904 tournaments, who will at once prepare plans and organize a working force to prosecute the vast preliminary work such a tournament entails. He will correspond with drivers from all over the world, and is already in communication with the famous drivers of Europe and America looking toward their attendance on the Ormond-Daytona beach battle ground.

As both the New York shows will close January 20, an exodus of race followers and spectators will head southward, and it is arranged to make Monday, January 22, a day of preparation and the actual racing to commence the day following. There will be three days' racing, one day of gymkhana sports, and a day of record trials. It is quite possible that the tournament management next year will only time officially for records the drivers that compete in the open races. And a day for records will follow the three days' racing.

The most important contest of the meet is that of the one mile international race for the $2,000 Sir Thomas Dewar international championship trophy, which is open to all, and which was won last winter by Louis Ross of the Bay State Automobile Association, Boston, who will shortly be called upon, in all probability, to defend the same, as Henry Ford, the Detroit manufacturer, has challenged Ross for it, and the rules governing the trophy provide for a contest twice a year, North and South. Walter Christie, who is rapidly coming into favor as a driver, has also challenged Mr. Ross for the trophy, and efforts are now being made to secure a mile straight-away course for the contest early in October, when the foreigners will be here for the Vanderbilt road race, and their entries will be solicited for the race.

The Florida East Coast Automobile Association met recently and elected as president for the coming year Asa Paine, vice-president of the Minneapolis Automobile Club, who owns a winter home in Daytona, and is considered an energetic and enterprising automobilist.

Sir Thomas Dewar, writing from his Scottish castle, Abercrombie, states that he is clearing the decks in order that he may be at the 1906 Florida tournament, and will probably bring with him a distinguished party of English sportsmen, who have expressed a wish to see the famous Florida coast, and the race for the Dewar trophy.

Among the possible owners of fast cars that will compete on the beach next meet are Hon. C. H. Rolls and Sir Thomas Dewar, M. P., London, who has become so well known in sport in the old country and the United States—From Morgan's Motoring Messenger.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McFadden arrived from Tybee, Ga., Thursday.

SOME THINGS MILITARY.

Items that Will Interest the Local Soldier Boys and Their Friends, Perhaps.

The Halifax Rifles are holding two drills a week and will continue to do so until after the annual encampment to be held at Orlando, commencing October 5th. Later on the drills will probably be increased to three a week. Company K, perhaps better known locally as the Halifax Rifles, has always ranked with the foremost companies of the Second Regiment, and with the companies of the entire brigade for that matter. This year they will endeavor to maintain their good reputation.

The following special order is published for the information of all concerned:

"Post Daytona, Florida, September 13, 1905. Special Order No. 1. Second Lieutenant T. Edward Fitzgerald, Second Regiment of Infantry, F. S. T., is hereby appointed as the Summary Court, to try such enlisted men at this Post as may properly be brought before the Court charged with breach of discipline in violation of the laws governing the Florida State Troops, and will act as such Summary Court until further orders."

"C. M. BINGHAM, JR.,
Lieut.-Colonel, 2nd Inf., F. S. T.,
Commanding Post."

Carpenters are at work making substantial improvements on the Armory.

The field and staff officers at the local post of the Florida State Troops this week received new service uniforms, made of English serge cloth. They also have the new regulation service caps to match.

HEALTH CERTIFICATE REQUIRED

One Daytonian Spent Eight Days in Detention at Camp Perry on Return from Alabama.

Roy McClellan arrived home Wednesday from a trip to Chattanooga and points in Alabama. When he started from Alabama he failed to provide himself with a health certificate, and as a result he was detained at Camp Perry for eight days by the quarantine officials. Mr. McClellan states that he was comfortably taken care of at the camp, but nevertheless advises all persons coming to Florida to have the necessary certificate. It will save much inconvenience and embarrassment. "The health officer boards the train at Camp Perry," he continued, "and if a fellow is not well known and cannot show a clean bill of health, he is sure to be dumped off at that point, for he will not be permitted to enter the State." He says the authorities are very strict and no favor is shown.

PLANNING FOR WINTER'S MEET.

Messrs. Flagler and Morgan Meet at Bretton Woods and Outline Tournament.

Plans for next winter's Southern racing circuit were determined in outline at a conference at Bretton Woods on Saturday last between Henry M. Flagler and W. J. Morgan. It is settled already that the Ormond-Daytona races will be run January 22-27th.

President Conill, of the Cuban International Racing Association, who is at Richfield Springs, writes Mr. Morgan that the Havana municipality has taken entire charge of the running of next year's international race. Its date will probably be the second Sunday in February. Senior Conill says that a road is in contemplation from Mariel to San Cristobal. This will give a loop running from Guanajuato through these two places and permit of a continuous contest of about one hundred and twenty miles instead of the race being run in two relays back and forth on the same road as was done last year.

It is not likely that any attempt will be made to run races on Pablo Atlantic beach, near Jacksonville, as a part of the regular circuit, though, after consultation with Mr. Flagler, it is possible that some sort of contest may be found possible at St. Augustine.

The Atlantic City beach proved a success as a place for tests of extreme speed last week, as did the one at Cape May shortly before. Automobile enthusiasts are only satisfied when fairly flying, and beach speeding is infinitely safer than road and track racing.

Beach racing bids fair to become even more popular, now that speeding on tracks seems to have come to a natural end, because motor cars have grown too fast for the turns. Although not so long as the course at Ormond Daytona, the stretches of beach that have come to light at Cape May and Atlantic City, on the coast of New Jersey, afford every opportunity for fast work with power-driven machines without the dangers that are present on the road and track.

The beach at Cape May is about two and a half miles long, and affords a good mile stretch, with a slight turn and an excellent kilometre dash. Over it an automobile has traveled a mile in thirty-eight seconds, which has only twice been exceeded, and then only on the beach at Daytona Beach.

A trifle more than three miles of good beach is supplied at Atlantic City, which gives a little longer start, although all races on it are limited to a kilometre or a mile. At both places there is about two hundred feet of riding surface at low tide, and the beach is so hard that only a slight impression is made when heavy cars pass over it.

Both the beaches are two or three seconds slower than the Ormond-Daytona course, whose fourteen-mile course is composed largely of copingia clam shells, which, when mixed with sand and water, form a sort of cement that is proof against an impression from the heaviest racing cars.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Barnes, corner First avenue and Daytona street, yesterday morning a son.

J. C. Pettepher writes the Gazette-News from Narragansett Pier, R. I., that he will be home about the first of next month. His family, who are visiting in Ohio, will return to Daytona at the same time.
